XTreme Video partners with AsiaSat to provide 4K premium content on '4K-SAT' Ultra-HD channel

Hong Kong / London, 22 September 2016 – '4K-SAT', the Ultra-HD channel operated by Asia's premier satellite operator Asia Satellite Telecommunications Co. Ltd. (AsiaSat) will be broadcasting premium extreme and outdoor content from XTreme Video on AsiaSat 4.

XTreme Video is producing the best 4K content for extreme sports fans worldwide. Its UHD content on 4K-SAT will include some of the most stunning extreme and outdoor content, such as the successful mountain biking series 'MTB Insights' and the world's wildest freestyle motocross show 'Masters of Dirt'.

"The brilliance of 4K definition truly comes into its own when the subject matter is as visually captivating as extreme and outdoor programming. We're committed to bringing the highest quality programming to audiences around the globe, via partnerships with platforms, broadcasters and partners like AsiaSat," said Joe Nilsson, Senior Director of Business Development at XTreme Video.

“XTreme Video offers exciting, adrenaline pumping programs that are very popular amongst viewers of all ages that are interested in extreme sports. We want to bring an immersive quality viewing experience to viewers via our platform on AsiaSat 4,” said Sabrina Cubbon, Vice President, Marketing and Global Accounts of AsiaSat.

‘4K-SAT’ continues to impress major TV operators and viewers across the region with unique and compelling UHD content in fashion, lifestyle, nature, movies, TV series, documentaries, extreme sports and technology.
